

345. There Is a Calm

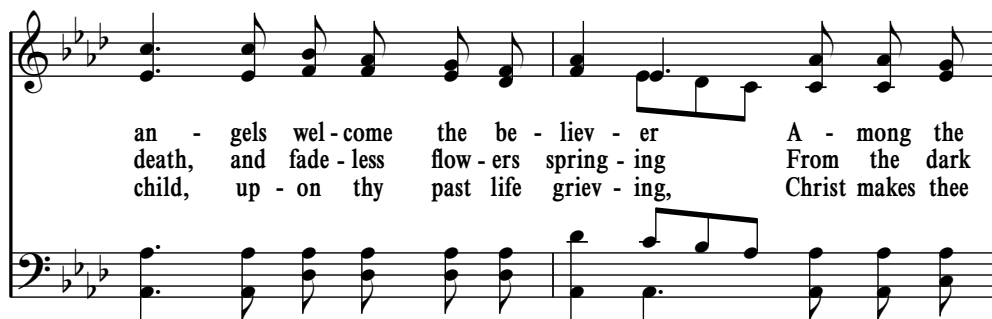

"There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God." Heb. 4:9

1. There is a calm, be - yond life's fit - ful fe - ver,
 2. There is a hope, to which the Chris - tian, cling - ing,
 3. There is a spot - less robe of Christ's own weav - ing;

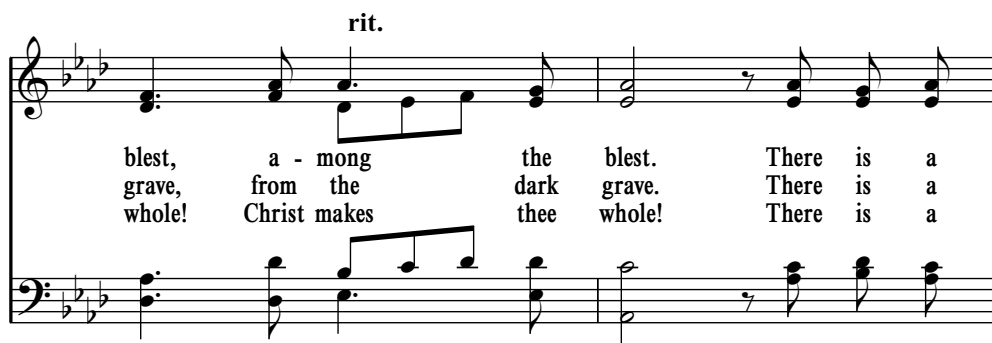

A deep re - pose, an ev - er - last - ing rest; Where white-robed Is lift - ed high a - bove life's surg - ing wave; Finds life in Wilt thou not wrap it round thy sin-stained soul? Poor wan-d'ring an - gels wel - come the be - liev - er A - mong the death, and fade - less flow - ers spring - ing From the dark child, up - on thy past life griev - ing, Christ makes thee rit.

blest, a - mong the blest. There is a grave, from the dark grave. There is a whole! Christ makes thee whole! There is a home, where all the soul's deep yearn - ings, And si - lent crown pre - pared for those who love Him; The Chris - tian home, a harp, a crown in heav - en; A - las! that prayers shall be at last ful - filled; Where strife and sees it in the dis - tance shine, Like a bright an - y should Thy gift re - fuse! The aw - ful sor - row, murm - 'rings and heart burn - ings bea - con glit - ter - ing a - bove him, choice of life and death is giv - en—

rit.
At last are stilled, At last are stilled.
And whis - pers, "Mine!" And whis - - pers, "Mine!"
Which wilt thou choose? Which wilt thou choose?